Creating a Supportive Home

A stressed mind cannot learn effectively. Let's prioritize:

- Sleep: Aim for 9-10 hours. It's when the brain cements learning!
- Play: Unstructured time is vital for creativity and decompressing.

Creating a Supportive Home

- Provide conducive environment: Set up a quiet, comfy study space.
- Establish a routine: Help your child stick to a study schedule.
- Be involved, not intrusive: Check progress without nagging.

Creating a Supportive Home

- Encourage breaks and self-care: Balance study with rest and activities.
- Communicate with teachers: Stay updated on your child's performance.

Creating a Supportive Home

- Safe Harbour: Make home a place where they can relax and be themselves after a long day.
- Connect Daily: Ask "What was the best part of your day?" instead of just "Do you have homework?"
- Celebrate Effort: Praise the hard work they put in, not just the marks they get back.

How can we help our boys achieve their goals?

Your child is never alone in school.

- Form Teachers: The first line of care. We check in daily.
- School Counsellors: A listening ear for any worries, big or small.

✓ Things You Can Do

Listen attentively. Maintain eye contact and put away your devices to show that you are paying attention.

Ensure that the environment is conducive and comfortable for your child. E.g. recreate an environment where your child had previously opened up to you, and have the conversation in a place where your child feels they have privacy.

Listen to understand, instead of listening in order to give advice and offer solutions.

Take a step back to calm down if things get heated, and return to the conversation after calming down.

Check that your child is comfortable with you sharing what they have told you with other people. If you have to do so out of concern for their safety, explain to your child why it is necessary.

○ Things You Can Say

- Use open ended questions to find out more about your child's perspectives and feelings.

How did that make you feel?

- Acknowledge that your child's opinions and feelings are valid, even if you disagree with them or do not fully understand them.

I hear that you are feeling frustrated.

- Let your child know that it is natural to experience these feelings, and that you experience them too.

I can see why you are upset.
I would be too.

- If you are not sure what else to do, you can let your child know you are concerned for them, and offer support or a listening ear.

How can I help? What support do you need from me?
